

2020 Workers Compensation: The Fundamentals Webinar

Tuesday, April 28, 2020 7:00-9:00 P.M

David Menchetti, JD

Description: This topic will provide you with a thorough analysis and discussion in order to understand the various types of workers' compensation benefits which are available to injured employees. You will also be provided with an in-depth learning experience covering the various medical evidence and witnesses, factual evidence and witnesses and investigative evidence which can be effectively utilized to reduce future claim exposure. This information will present specific strategies to assess return to work motivation, risks and factors which can impact a prolonged period of disability and create barriers which influence return to work outcomes.

AUDIENCE: All licensed professionals, physicians, nurses, hospital administrators, executive staff, public health professionals
