SPECIAL SESSION: COVID-19 IN ADULT POPULATIONS

Chicago Medical Society has partnered with ECHO-Chicago to support community providers in addressing COVID-19. ECHO-Chicago has set-up a series of weekly sessions focused on the latest best practices for pediatric and adult populations.

Each hour-long session includes a brief didactic led by infectious disease specialists at the University of Chicago Medicine and other experts. The 15-20 minute didactic is then followed by an extensive Q&A to help providers to deal with the real world issues of primary care providers.

Join this special CME training session for a didactic and an extensive Q&A led by ECHO-Chicago Director & Infectious Disease Specialists, Drs. Daniel Johnson and Stephen Schrantz; and Geriatrician Dr. Kate Thompson.
Registration is REQUIRED - April 15, 2020 5:30 PM
